
Fixed features and inner-selected families are reported separately. All arms share the revision-time protocol.
The best fixed arm is descriptive; choosing it from these outcomes is not independent validation.